GOD'S HOUSE KINDERGARTEN PHILOSOPHY

God's House Kindergarten is a ministry of the Altadena Valley Presbyterian Church. We seek to serve as the parents' authorized representative in the child's training process, not to assume the task which God gives to parents. Because the school tries to follow the Bible's instruction as far as discipline and parenting, we hope to provide harmony between training received at home and at school. Likewise, the school expects parents to direct and discipline their children accordingly.

God's House is committed both in and out of the classroom to direct the development of the student to enable him to translate the educational experience he receives here into Christian living. The school is committed to proclaiming the gospel to the students and parents through our educational process. This is done not only through our classroom, but also at the programs and by way of correspondence through the children to home.
